If candidate filed annual report but no preelection report, final report for primary covers all activity from January 1, 2022, through August 9, 2022.

If no annual or preelection report filed, final report for primary election covers all campaign activity through August 9, 2022, or, if candidate lost election, all campaign activity through the date the report is filed.

November 1, 2022

If opposed in general election, preelection report due for general election.

If candidate has not previously filed any reports during the 2022 election cycle, this report covers all campaign activity through October 29, 2022.

If candidate filed a final report for the primary election, preelection report for general election covers all campaign activity from August 10, 2022 through October 29, 2022.

November 8, 2022

General Election

December 30, 2022

Final report due for general election.

If candidate has not previously filed any reports during the 2022 election cycle, the final report for the general election covers all campaign activity through the date the report is filed.

If candidate filed a preelection report for the general election, the final report for the general election covers all campaign activity from October 30, 2022, through the date the report is filed.

If candidate did not file a preelection report for the general election, the final report covers all campaign activity from August 10, 2022, through to the date the report is filed.

* Effective July 27, 2021, the campaign finance laws were amended by Act 737 of 2021 to require a candidate to file an annual C&E report for each year in which a candidate is not listed on a ballot for election. The annual report is required to be filed no later than 15 days after the end of the year. A candidate is not required to file an annual report if he or she has not received contributions or made expenditures in excess of five hundred dollars ($500).

 A candidate is not required to file a preelection report if he or she has not received contributions or made expenditures in excess of five hundred dollars ($500). In calculating the amount of contributions received or expenditures made for purposes of this exception, the payment of the filing fee from the candidate's personal funds shall not be considered as either a contribution or an expenditure. Once the five hundred-dollar ($500) threshold has been met, however, a candidate who has used his or her personal funds to pay the filing fee is required to report same.

 A final report is required regardless of whether a candidate has received contributions or made expenditures in excess of five hundred dollars ($500).
